

HEOP Academic Supportive Services Invite You to Attend the Winter 2014 Recess Workshops. Register Now!!

Science Workshops

Chemistry Basics

January 6 & 7 from 1–3 pm in PB 422

Students will be introduced to the periodic table, atoms and chemical bonds.

Presenter: Ms. Marisol Ramos

It is advisable that students taking Bio 1, Bio 3, Bio 22, Chm 3/x and Chm 21 attend this workshop.

Biology Basics

January 8, & 9 from 10 – 12 noon in PB 420

Students will be introduced to science vocabulary, biological molecules and cells.

Presenter: Ms. Marisol Ramos

It is advisable that students taking Bio 1, Bio 3 and Bio 22 attend this workshop.

Math Behind the Sciences

January 8, & 9 from 1 – 3pm in PB 422

Students will be introduced to the Metric System and problem – solving techniques used in chemistry and physics courses

Presenter: Dr. Kamel Boukerrou

College Survival Skills Workshop

Games for Critical Thinking

January 6, & 7 from 1-3pm in PB 420

Playing is a great way to exercise your thinking muscles. Join us in the fun and games.

Presenters: Ms. Yani Perez and Ms. Jenny Radtke

Notes-Taking Strategies

January 14 from 1-3pm in PB 420

The note-taking techniques presented in this workshop can provide a quick and easy way to boost your grades.

Presenter: Ms. Nancy Clark

The Five People You Meet in College

January 16 from 1-3pm in PB 420

This workshop helps student face and overcome five emotional challenges they may face in college.

Presenter: Ms. Patia Braithwaite

My LIU- Total Navigation and Time Management

January 10 from 10-12noon in PB 422

Learn to manage your time, email account, TO DO List, account activities (insurance waiver, award letter, etc.) and access blackboard. Put your TIME on your side for this individualized workshops.

Presenter: Ms. Marisol Ramos

Career and Financial Aid Workshops

Graduate School

January 10 from 10-1 pm in PB 420

Let there be light... on the graduate school application process! Everything Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors need to do and when they need to do it to get in.

Presenters: Ms. Susan Halio, Senior Counselor.

Unlock Your Career Potential with My Career key

January 16 from 1-3 pm in HEOP computer lab

Learn how to navigate this online tool to find great internships and full and part-time jobs, sign up for career events, and access useful job search resources.

Presenter: Ms. Amy Rothenberg, Career Service

Scholarship$ and Grant$ Hunt Work Shop

January 17 from 10-12 pm in HEOP Comp lab

Learn effective scholarship internet research strategies; increase your eligibility for grants. Bye-bye Loans. Hello free money!

Presenter: Mr. Richard Nau

Northwestern Mutual Internship Information Session

January 15 from 2-3 pm in PB420

Learn about an internship in the field of finance that provides a stipend. This workshop will be conducted by Fordham University HEOP Alumnus.

Presenter: Mr. Luis Ciriaco- College Unit Director

College Survival Skills Workshop

Computer Literacy Test Prep

(Graduation Requirement)

January 14, 15, & 16 from 10-12noon in PB 421

(You only need to attend one day)

Learn the necessary skills to master Microsoft Windows, Microsoft Word and Internet/ email to pass the Computer Literacy Test.

Presenter: Ms. Julian Cleland

Get LinkedIn!

January 6 from 10-11 am in PB 421

Get onto the hot professional social media platform, LinkedIn, where everyone who has a job, and everyone who wants one, is. Learn to create content that serves your profession career goals in just 50 minutes.

Presenter: Ms. Tarlisha Noel, Career Services

Mathematics Workshops

The Power of Compounding

January 6, 7, 8, & 9 from 10 – 12noon in PB 422

Students will be introduced to interest, loan and amortization problems

Presenter: Mr. Boris Raskin

It is advisable that students taking Mat 15 and Mat16 attend this workshop.

Introduction to Statistics

January 14, 15, & 16 from 1 – 3 pm in PB 422

Students will be introduced to the fundamentals of statistics

Presenter: Ms. Lisa Clothier

It is advisable that students taking Mth 15, Mth 16, Mth 100, Psy 150, and QA 128 attend this workshop.

Matrices: Concepts and Operations

January 13, 14, 15, & 16 from 10 – 12 noon in PB 420

What are matrices, their application, and operations?

Join us in the field of linear algebra where the applications are various in business and computers.

Presenter: Mr. Boris Raskin

It is advisable that students taking Mth 16 and Mth 30 attend this workshop.

Pre-Calculus Ahead

January 13, 14, 15, & 16 from 1 – 3pm in PB 422

It is time to get to know your functions!

Presenter: Dr. Kamel Boukerrou

It is advisable that students taking Mth 30 attend this workshop.

English Workshops

Effective Writing and Grammar Tips

January 13, 14 & 15 from 10 – 12 noon in PB 421

Learn rules and tips for clear concise expression in college and on the job.

Presenter : Ms. Van Baird

HESI/ Grammar

January 13, 14 & 15 from 10 – 12 noon in PB 520

This workshop provides tips and tricks for mastering the vocabulary and grammar sections of the HESI exam.

Presenter : Ms. Josephine Clark

Register Now

All participants will receive a MetroCard

LIU
Brooklyn

You must register for these workshops by December 13, 2014.
To register, contact Dr. Kamel Boukerrou or Ms. Marisol Ramos in the HEOP office or call
(718) 488 – 1043.