LIU HUDSON AT ROCKLAND

There is an increasing demand for counselors and therapists who are trained in cognitive behavioral approaches. This program will provide psychologists, mental health counselors, school counselors, social workers, psychiatric nurses and others in similar fields with training that will enhance their skills and expand their career options.

Training in Eclectic Cognitive Behavior Therapy will provide a strong foundation in the basic theory and application of the major cognitive behavior systems. The program will focus on assessment techniques; identifying and disputing maladaptive beliefs; setting appropriate treatment goals; contrast and integration of cognitive behavior therapy with other therapies; and the use of homework. The specific cognitive behavioral techniques for treating anxiety, phobias, obsessive-compulsive disorders, depression and other problems will be covered.

Students will receive a Certificate of Completion in the basic theory and practice of ECBT upon successful completion of the course.
